Questions we often get asked about claims

How long will it take to pay my claim?

Our aim is to pay claims as quickly as possible but it is difficult to give an exact timescale for paying claims. As administrators for the claim we are responsible for putting together the information provided by you and other sources, such as insurance fraud databases etc. and then sending it to the insurer for them to sign off. Insurers sometimes then ask for further information or clarification so it is not possible to say when a claim will be paid until this process is complete.

How will I know how my claim is progressing once I have sent the claim form back?

There is no need to phone us, we will keep you advised during the assessment process.

Can I call for an update on my claim?

No. We are unable to give updates on claims over the telephone. If you would like an update you can write to us at the address given. We will however update you on progress throughout the claim.

Can you get the missing documentation on my behalf?

No. We are unable to contact outside sources on your behalf so you will need to get the information that is requested and send it to us.

Why do I have to send in a copy of the original sales invoice when I submit a tyre replacement claim?

We need to check the mileage on the vehicle at the time of sale in accordance with the terms of the policy.

If I have finance against the vehicle, my motor insurance company will not be providing me with a cheque so how do I get around this?

Ask your motor insurance company to provide you with written confirmation that your claim has been settled and a full breakdown of the payment.

Can I send in the claim form now and send the rest of the documentation in later as and when I receive it?

No. Collect all the information that is required and send it in at the appropriate time so the assessors have everything they need to assess your claim.

Who will the cheque be payable to?

Cheques will be payable to the policy holder unless it is a Finance GAP policy then the cheque will be payable to the finance company.
